How the Prince Was Fed. A perusal of the menus of the various festivities at which our guest sat himself down and ate shows an overwhelming array of Blue Point oysters, terrapin and canvas-back duck. If the prince were to conclude from this that these things are the chief staples of food of this country and that our hams are made only for export, he would not lack justification, and in the matter of canvas-back ducks he must have suspected at least that we were experimenting with him to see if a single individual could eat thirty game birds in as many days and survive the ordeal in full enjoyment of his digestive powers. Upon what principle Prince Henry was accompanied everywhere he went by a gastronomic guard of terrapin and canvasbacks is one of the mysteries. Why he was not introduced to chicken a la Maryland is a point as full of complexities as a naval controversy, and for what earthly reason it was considered wise to overload his stomach with petits fours and marrons glaces at every feast, to the exclusion of planked shad, sally-lunn, buckwheat cakes. pumpkin pie and Boston baked beans, we shall probably never know. We can understand, in a measure, why it was that the prince was given a special performance of grand opera, which he can get every night of the week at home, rather than that he should have been entertained at Weber & Fields's, the like of which he never saw anywhere from Potsdam to Antipodes. There were good reasons for this, but why a man who has come hither to see how we live and what we live on should have nothing but an endless vista of terrapin

Charleston Exposition to Bid for Jefries-Fitzsimmons Match.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 23.-Al McMurray, matchmaker for the Southern Athletic Club of Charleston, will leave for New York to-morrow to make a bid and post a forfeit for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons contest to be pulled off in Charleston. In this instance McMurray acts as the direct representative of the exposition corporation. It is proposed that the contest shall be held in the exposition grounds, which are beyond the corporate limits of

The four women who are expected to compete are Miss Annie Oakley, "Wenona," Mrs. Johnston, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Dute Cabanne, of St. Louis. It is declared that fifteen millionaires have entered. Two special matches preliminary to the handicap will be shot off this week. On Friday J. A. R. Elliott, of Kansas City, W. R. Crosby, of O'Fallon, Ill., and Fred Gilbert, of Spirit Lake, Ia., will compete for the Sportmen's Review cup. On Saturday J. A. R. Elliott and W. R. Crosby will meet in a 100-bird race for the cast-iron medal, one of the oldest of the wing-shot trophies. Elliott is the present holder of the emblem. The shoot proper will begin on Monday morning, March 31, promptly at 9 o'clock, and will be practically continuous from that time on, the only lulls arranged for being at mealtimes and at night. Every day the shooting will commence at 9 o'clock. The Grand American handicap will be shot off on Wednesday and Thurs-

New Roller Rink Wanted. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., March 23.-An effort will be made here to bring about the building of a new roller-skating rink for next season or else have the present one reconstructed. An option has been secured on ground and an effort is on to form a stock company to put up the new building. It is elieved there will be increased interest next year in polo and that Indiana will have a league of several clubs. Richmond so the meeting was postponed. Mr. Brush would not talk on baseball matters last night other than to make the declaration set out above. He intimated that a schedule would be arranged, but what action would be taken regarding the complete burial of the hatchet would not be discussed by him. It is believed that the magnates will get together and arrange a compromise so that there will be practically no misunderstanding when the season opens. It was rumored that Mr. Robison, of the St. Louis club, was in the city yesterday in conference with Mr. Brush, but this

They Will Govern Baseball in the Leading Western Colleges.

CHICAGO, March 23 .- Last year's American League rules will govern in the leading Western universities in intercollegiate baseball this year, and Joe Cantillon, the former American League umpire, probably will officiate at the college games. These points came out to-day as the result of an interview between Director George Huff, of Illinois, and Director Stagg at the University of Chicago. When the question of playing rules came up for consideration both of the college magnates agreed that the American League rules of last year, which were the National League rules of year before last, are the best for the college games. Huff stated that Jack Hollister, of Beloit, was in favor of the old rules, and that Wisconsin also had no desire for complicated innovations. Stagg stated that Manager Baird, of Michigan, and Dr. Hollister, of Northwestern, had informed him that they favored the American League rules for 1901. As the sentiment was practically unanimous, the

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 23.-Manager Walters, of the Terre Haute Three-I League club, had some of his players out for practice yesterday for the first time. The first games to be played here will be with Kreig's Chattanooga team on April 5 and 6. There will be much local interest in the games, because Krieg was the Terre Haute manager last year. On April 13 the Chicago National League team will come to town. The Terre Haute club will go to Crawfordsville on the 14th for five games with Wabash College.

A. G.'s campaign against Freedmanism and Brushism was too much on the Coxey army order to succeed, and it is surprising how he managed to delude so many of the writers on baseball into the belief that he would win. Their desire to drive Freedman and Brush out of the game was so general that the pencil pushers enlisted without considering how that much-to-be-wished end was not great enough to bring out even the to be accomplished. SUSPICIOUS UNANIMITY. peal of War Taxes.

"Timeo Danaos et dona ferentes;" said our old friend Virgil, with the endless chain of long and short feet and the rhythm of a Danube waltz in his stylus. In other words, when your enemy offers you cake, look out for indigestion. So it is with the Republican party in the House, and the sudden and wonderful acquiescence of the opposition in the swift passage of the bill for the reduction of war taxes. It is by no means certain that the majority party is well pleased, now that it is all over. There exist unmistakable signs that the Senate will not approve of such sweeping reductions, with Cuban reciprocity almost certain to succeed, the usual expenses keeping steadily on in the Philippines, and nothing done to arrange for a proper taxation upon Philippine commodities that will supply an assured income to bear the heavy cost of the present necessary administration in the islands. The canal bill, also, will amount to quite a noticeable sum, and domestic affairs have shown no sign of reducing expenses more than usual. Altogether, it is not improbable that a reduction of present income would result in a deficit. It is always easier to place a cause which he espoused, Dr. W. H.
